

6.

I claim:

1. A combination shoe and shoelace retaining device comprising of flexible wrapping retaining members made a part of a flexible extension, with both being made of but not limited to plastics, clothe, rubber, polyurethane, and synthetics, that will allow the device to be semi attached to the upper of a shoe.
2. A combination shoe and shoelace retaining device, comprising of a flexible wrapping retaining members made a part of a flexible extension, with both being made of but not limited to plastics, clothe, rubber, polyurethane and synthetics permanently attached to the shoe.